I Introduction

The Purpose of this Handbook is to provide a basis for good order of the Religious Society of Friends within SAYMA and its constituent Monthly Meetings. This is an outline of the organizational structure of the Yearly Meeting, its positions of responsibility, committees and its relations to other Friends’ bodies that reflect how we carry out the Guide to Our Faith and Practice. Several sections are repeated from Faith and Practice (2012) as reference.

The members of the constituent Monthly Meetings have traditionally vested certain responsibilities in the Yearly and Representative Meetings. The power to determine its budget, support the yearly gathering, act as employer of record for staff, maintain an office, make apportionments to Wider Quaker Organizations, keep an historical record of the actions of Yearly Meeting and support individual leadings at the request of a Monthly Meeting. Yearly Meeting also takes responsibility for real property and transfer of membership in the event that a recognized Monthly Meeting is laid down.

Minute on Individual Responsibilities for Collective Activities (10/6 1995)

In the course of providing for the many activities that SAYMA is involved in, individuals are recruited to take the responsibility for performing certain duties that Yearly Meeting feels will enhance the life of the Meeting. It is our belief that each will be called to that activity that best suits their Gifts.

While recognizing that results only occur because individuals take actions, we need to remember that the authority to take action on behalf of SAYMA comes from the body of SAYMA and that every individual has people with whom to consult and to whom that individual owes some accountability. We ask the individuals of SAYMA to honor that sense of mutual accountability and to fully use the mechanism of consultation and clearness – seeking that are available to them as a consequence of the position that they have assumed.

SAYMA will promptly pay statements for goods and services it has received that were arranged by authorized members of SAYMA.

Definitions:

An "authorized member of SAYMA" is a person in a "position of responsibility" other than the treasurer whose position has budgeted funds associated with it. For example, the Clerk of Ministry and Nurture has budgeted funds associated with the Ministry and Nurture Committee.

Procedure:

1. The authorized individual submits and invoice to the treasurer, along with a brief explanation of the purpose of the purchase and the budgeted item to which the cost should be charged.

2. The treasurer verifies that the submitter is in a "position of responsibility" and has budgeted funds available.

3. If funds are budgeted and the submitting member is authorized, the treasurer mails a check to the vendor or to the authorized individual, if the individual is requesting reimbursement for items paid for out of personal funds.

4. If there are questions about authorization or budget, the treasurer asks the submitter for additional information. If additional queries do not resolve the matter, the treasurer consults with the finance committee about whether to pay the invoice and which budget items to debit if it is paid.
5. The treasurer will pay invoices issued before or after goods and services are received, if the request originates from an authorized individual with budgeted funds. If an invoice is paid before receiving goods or services, the individual receiving the goods or services notifies the treasurer by e-mail when they are received and satisfactory.

6. For amounts greater than $500, authorized individuals should notify the treasurer prior to making a commitment to purchase to verify that funds are available and that the expenditure is appropriate to the expenditure category. Recurring expenses associated with the yearly meeting program and payments to reimburse SAYF expenses are exempt from this requirement.

7. The treasurer will retain copies of invoices and proof of payment during the fiscal year of the expenditure. After that, they will be archived at the SAYMA administrative office.

8. Expenses incurred by the treasurer for which reimbursement is requested will be submitted to the assistant treasurer or clerk with documentation. The assistant treasurer or clerk will follow steps 3-6 above, and return documentation to the treasurer with annotation indicating approval of the expense.

D. SAYMA Travel Expense Reimbursement

Each representative from SAYMA or officer who travels for SAYMA should fill in and submit, with receipts if available, all expenses incurred during travel to the Treasurer as soon as possible after the expense and before the end of the fiscal year. (Expense Form in section VIII)

1. Delegate Expenses:
   a. Delegate expenses are paid to SAYMA delegates for expenses incurred in attending meetings of Wider Quaker Organizations to which they have been appointed.
   b. Expenses incurred by a delegate participating in additional responsibilities of a WQO are not covered by SAYMA.
   c. If there are left over funds budgeted for delegate expenses at the end of the fiscal year the Treasurer may expend those remaining funds by honoring reimbursement requests for non-delegate expenses related to WQO participation.

2. Officers and Committee Clerks may also receive SAYMA travel support to Representatives Meeting if they are not official representatives of their Monthly Meeting.

D. SCHOLARSHIP Policy  Any Friend seeking scholarship money from SAYMA is requested to first obtain support from their Monthly Meeting.

1. Travel in the Ministry

   a. A clearness committee of the Monthly Meeting has been called and the Monthly Meeting has approved and given monetary support

   b. A support (care) committee is in place from the Monthly meeting

   c. The amount of support is requested by the Monthly Meeting at a Representative Meeting and will then be referred to the Ministry and Nurture committee for review. If approved, M&N will bring this request to the next regular SAYMA Meeting (Yearly or Representative)

   d. The individual will be requested to provide M&N with reports at least yearly of their progress and continued call to this ministry.

2. Spiritual Enrichment Fund.

   a. An individual in service to SAYMA may apply to the M&N for assistance to attend workshops, retreats, or educational events for their Spiritual Enrichment.

3. Scholarship to attend Yearly Meeting

   a. The individual or Family has requested and received support from their Monthly Meeting

   b. Their contribution along with that of the Monthly Meeting should accompany the registration form and the Planning Committee will review
c. Funds will be distributed as needed on a first come basis from the scholarship fund of the Yearly Meeting Planning Committee

d. If funds are not available consultation with the YM Clerks advisor committee will be sought for solution.

4. To Attend Friends General Conference Gathering

a. As above seek support from the local Monthly Meeting

b. Seek support rom FGC’s first timers fund or apply for a work grant.

c. Apply to the Yearly Meeting in a timely manner to come before a representatives meeting.

NOTE: If this is an isolated Friend who has a relationship with Yearly Meeting and not a Monthly Meeting they should apply to M&N of Yearly Meeting directly.
IX  Recommendations for Updating “Draft” SAYMA Handbook

1. At least once a year, each committee and officer review Faith and Practice and the Handbook asking the following questions.
   a. Is the current operational description of your work up-to-date and accurate, as you understand it?
   b. What is outdated? Is there missing information?
   c. Do changes or recommendations need to be brought to Yearly Meeting?

2. The Handbook Committee will remind each person/committee of this review and be prepared to help in developing corrected or new information to be included in the Handbook.

3. The additions or corrections will be made, as appropriate, in the SAYMA Office copy of the Handbook and on the SAYMA web site.

4. If the changes will affect our Faith and Practice, a note will be kept in a Faith and Practice file in the SAYMA office for reference when and if a Faith and Practice examining committee is appointed.
Manual for Recording Registrar

Basic duties of the Recording Registrar:

1. Receive and open registrations.
2. Build a data set showing who has registered with the following information:
   - Contact info for each registrant,
   - how many room-nights and meals each person needs,
   - what workshops they want, and
   - whether they will participate in worship sharing, JYM, SAYF, YAF, or SSO,
   - and any special requests or wishes to volunteer.
3. Apply subsidy and scholarship policies.
4. Send a confirmation email to each registrant.
5. Deposit checks and report to the treasurer.
6. Provide information needed to other members of YMPC.

Processing registration forms.

Registration forms will start arriving once the advanced programs go out in April. At first they will trickle in, and then around deadline time, you won’t be able to keep up. That deluge lasts less than a week however.

You need to pencil in some info on the paper registration forms as soon as you open them:

- Write the date you received it at the top; if it’s after the deadline, record the postmark date.
- Pencil in the amount of money enclosed. (It may differ from the amount listed on the form.)
- Review the form for accuracy. It helps to know the usual fees: (update for 2014)
  - Three nights in a shared room -- $86.25
  - Three nights in a single room -- $153.75
  - All meals from dinner Thursday through lunch on Sunday -- $57.
  - All meals but breakfast for SAYFers -- $42.75

Enter the data in the Excel spreadsheet provided to you:

- Information under all the headings: date received, names, meeting, email address, housing needs, meals, workshops, etc.
- Use a separate horizontal line for each person – not family – that registered.
Policies to apply:

Deadlines: The first deadline is in mid-May; for the last two weeks of May we accept registrations with a late fee penalty. The second deadline is the day before we have to give the count for meals and rooms to Warren Wilson. After that each case is a special case.

We can accept a few last minute registrations because WW gives us some wiggle room on meals and there are usually rooms available. Problems arise, however, if people register – whether late or not – and don’t come and don’t pay. Be especially careful to tell all registrants that by registering they have obligated themselves to pay for their registration even if they don’t come (unless they cancel before the count goes in).

Forms are assumed to have met the deadline if they were mailed on or before that date, or if you received an email with the registration attached on or before that date with a check to follow. Enter the deadline date under date received, if form did meet the deadline.

Subsidies:

SAYMA waives the registration fee and pays room, meals, and daily use fees for a number of attenders:

- SAYMA Administrative Assistant
- SAYF Administrative Assistant
- Up to 8 FAPs
- JYM Coordinators and up to 2 full-time assistants
- Up to 4 invited guests from WQOs
- Depending on the year, 0, 1, or 2 invited outside speakers

You will need to know ahead of time the actual names of individuals eligible this year.

- Email the SAYF Head FAP (Wren Hendrickson) for the names of the full-time FAPS (other SAYF volunteers are not subsidized; apply the subsidy only to names you get from Wren.)
- JYM coordinators are subsidized
- The SAYMA Clerk will know the names of our invited guests
- The Coordinator of Plenary Programs has info on any outside speakers granted subsidies
- Our SAYMA staff members are Liz Perch and Jonah McDonald.

Scholarships:

Anyone else who cannot pay full expenses, should apply first to their monthly meeting and then to SAYMA for scholarship assistance. If there is no check from the monthly meeting with the registration form, contact the would-be recipient to find out if it is being sent separately. Once you have a check from the monthly meeting in hand, you may grant the request for an additional SAYMA scholarship.
Confirmation emails:

Email, call, or write (snail mail) each person who registers to let them know their registration has been received and processed. Try to do this as soon as you’ve finished entering the data for each registration. See the template below on the next page.

Explain the nature of any errors on the form. If there is a balance due, remind them of the amount.

Occasionally someone will pay for another person or children from another family. Either ask them to submit a separate registration form for each person who has a different address, or request they email you that contact information.

SAYFers have two more forms to fill out. They are available on the SAYMA website and the SAYF Administrative Assistant will mail them out. SAYFers should bring these forms with them to the SAYF dorm. (The info is in the Advanced Program.) If they come back to you instead, bring them with you to Yearly Meeting. The SAYF Administrative Assistant will contact families if there are problems.

The JYM coordinator will contact families with kids in JYM to get the required medical forms filled out.
Confirmation email – template for 2014 – copy & paste but customize

Explain any mistakes on the form that resulted in additional fees.

Thank you for registering for Yearly Meeting this year. We have deposited your check and you are paid in full (owe a balance of $ ). (IF SCHOLARSHIP CONTRIBUTION INCLUDED) Thank you very, very much for the donation to our scholarship fund. (IF APPROPRIATE) I’ll let the appropriate person know about your requests and offers to volunteer. (SPELL THESE OUT.)

You are signed up for all meals beginning with dinner on Thursday through lunch on Sunday. OR, IF DIFFERENT THE ACTUAL MEALS THEY SIGNED UP FOR.

ONLY IF SAYF
I will let Wren Hendrickson and Jonah McDonald know that you (OR NAME OF CHILD) will be participating in SAYF-at-SAYMA this year. Email Jonah at jonahpmcd@gmail.com to get the special SAYF forms you will also need. SAYFers typically sign up for dinner on Thursday, lunch and dinner on Friday & Saturday, and lunch on Sunday, but eat breakfast in the SAYF dorm. Remember, the SAYF dorm does not open until 6 p.m. on Thursday.

I’ve noted that you want workshop # on Friday and # on Saturday as well as worship sharing both days. (IF APPROPRIATE) Workshops # and # have been cancelled. Would you like to choose something else?

Registration is in Gladfelter on the lower level this year. If it looks as if you’re going to arrive after 8 in the evening, please let Laura Seeger know by calling 423-400-4091 since she’ll have to wait up for you. Also, please bring a $5 bill with you as a deposit for each room key you will need.

ONLY IF SIMPLE SUPPER OPTION CHOSEN
Since you signed up for the Simple Supper Option on Friday and Saturday nights, be sure to bring supplies with you: food to cook, pots to cook it in, and dishes to eat out of. The college supplies the kitchen, but that’s all.

ONLY IF STAYING OVERNIGHT
Remember, dorm rooms are bare; there are no clothes hangers in the closets and the only lights are in the ceiling. You will need pillows, sheets, blankets, and towels. Extra-length twin-size sheets and mattress pads work best. WiFi is uncertain on campus, so bring an Ethernet cable too. Unless you have chosen a single room or designated a roommate, SAYMA will choose a roommate for you.

Long term parking is behind the Kittredge Theater or across the street behind the Sutton dorm. You’ll be given a parking pass for your dashboard when you register.

If you have to cancel, let us know ASAP! We can make refunds if we hear from you by the end of May, but after that SAYMA must pay the college for your meals and room whether or not you use them.

If you have any questions about your registration form email me at cshapenote@hotmail.com.

Chris Berg, Recording Registrar
Deposit checks and/or cash in the SAYMA account at Bank of America.

Get a deposit stamp and deposit slips for the SAYMA account from the treasurer.

List each check individually on the deposit slip – you can identify each one with the last name on the checking account – then stamp the back of each check, and paper clip the checks together with the deposit slip. You will make many deposits over the next few weeks.

Notify the treasurer as each deposit is made. She/he will need the total amount for each deposit to keep track of the check book balance.

All money received before you leave for YM yourself should be in the bank before yearly meeting begins. (During YM the treasurer will make the deposits.)

Provide information on registration to other YMPC members.

- Worship Coordinator
  - Send a list of those planning to attend worship sharing
  - And a list of those willing to be facilitators for worship sharing.
- Workshop Coordinator
  - Send info on the total number of people enrolled in each workshop
- JYM Coordinator
  - Send the names of children signed up for JYM and their parents’ contact info
- SAYF: Wren Hendrickson and Jonah McDonald
  - Send the names of the SAYFers who have signed up for YM.
- Site Coordinator
  - Forward requests for rides from the airport or bus station
  - And names of those willing to pick up people from the airport or bus station
  - Keep a list of those who wish to volunteer and forward their names and contact info to the person in charge of that particular area; i.e. if they volunteer to help with the bookstore, send the info to the Bookstore Coordinator.

Send a copy of the data set to the Administrative Assistant

She will need a copy in time to get the count to WW
Send another copy before you leave for YM and whenever else she requests one.

The SAYMA Administrative Assistant will . . .
  Provide counts to Warren Wilson
  Send room requests to the on-site registrar
  Make the name-tags and the labels for the back
  Print receipts for balances due

The on-site registrar will . . .
  Make the room assignments

Planning for Yearly Meeting

A guide for the clerk

prepared 2006/2007
updated 2013
To the new Yearly Meeting Planning Clerk,

If you have volunteered for this job, you probably already have some experience serving on the Yearly Meeting Planning Committee or, at least, you have attended several, perhaps many, Yearly Meetings. Jobs such as this which pass from one volunteer set of hands to another, often have an uncertain institutional memory. Faced with a pile of papers of varying helpfulness that had been passed on to me by the past clerk, I sat down and began this manual in the summer of 2006 in order to help with that perennial problem; then I revisited it in January 2013 and made some changes.

Just thinking about the task ahead is enough to make one’s head spin. What needs to be done? How should it be organized? Who is responsible for what and do they clearly understand all that is required? What do you yourself know about what lies ahead?

One important thing to remember is that much of the work is done by members of the committee rather than by the clerk personally. Each committee member has agreed to take on a specific task – quite a big task actually – and your main job is to make sure it all comes together reasonably well. However, it is important to remind committee members that their work with the committee is as important as the specific job they have been assigned. Discernment is done by people working together not separately.

Another thing to remember is that each year builds on the one before, so that the planning committee is never starting from scratch. We know just about how many attenders to expect, the sorts of facilities we need, the basic outline for the YM schedule, and what to look for in the budget. Evaluation results from last year along with our own personal experiences help the committee discern what needs to be tweaked for next year.

Most Friends do not altogether appreciate to what extent yearly meeting is a spontaneous happening – or to be more Quakerly – how much it is Spirit-led. The planning committee, however much it labors over a mountain of details, is never quite able to orchestrate everything. Yearly Meeting is the work of many hands. Workshops are chosen more or less serendipitously as Friends answer the request the Workshop coordinator sends out in January; WQOs contact us for display space often at the very last minute; Friends register late or ask for scholarships or stipends with little time for discernment; volunteers wait to identify themselves until after Yearly Meeting is underway; committee meetings are arranged on the fly; groups form around a musician with a guitar or a fiddle; and each person who has accepted a position of responsibility finds that they often have to assume authority on the spot and handle whatever has come up in his or her own way.

Somehow it all comes together in June. The results are different for different participants, certainly, but there is a sense that the enterprise is shared and, at its best, Spirit-led. Have a wonderful time in the Spirit with your term as Yearly Meeting Planning Clerk.

YMPC Clerk

Clerks the meetings; prepares the agendas; coordinates everyone’s efforts; see next page for specific tasks

Some of these people may not be able to attend every Planning Committee meeting and some positions may have co-coordinators. So the numbers attending planning meetings will almost certainly vary from the dozen or so listed here.

Job descriptions for most of these positions have been generated by SAYMA and most are in the files you received in June from the outgoing clerk.

YMPC LISTSERV

In order to be useful a listserv needs to be purged and updated each year. An alternative is to create your own list and copy that to participants. That worked well for me.

If you want to use a listserv, check with Liz Perch.

Preparing the Evaluation Report

Feedback from the YM evaluations is invaluable for the work of the YM Planning Committee. Encouraging feedback is important. It is typical to receive evaluations from just 40% of Friends who attend Yearly Meeting.

We use the same basic form each year with the addition of a few topical questions in response to current concerns. These kinds of changes or even wholesale revisions are within your purview. However, please be mindful that too much change makes it difficult to compare results year to year.

Each summer the YMPC Clerk needs to analyze the results and disseminate them to the rest of the committee before the first meeting in September. We use SurveyMonkey.com to collect the responses. Liz Perch can give you the log in information.

Start by looking at the finished evaluation report from last year. You can get an electronic copy from last year’s Clerk that you can update with the new numbers. Note how the report is organized: percentages for the last 3 years, comments, and possibly notes from you to the YMPC.

It is best to base the percentages of responses on the number who actually rated the item between 1 and 5, leaving out people who skipped the item and those who chose 0 – doesn’t apply to me. This will require re-calculating the percentages. Be sure the total number you report at the top of each column is the sum of the numbers choosing each rating. Note that numbers for Disappointing and Very Disappointing are bundled together; that is because these numbers are reliably very small.

Comparisons between items within a single year, or within items over several years, will often let you see immediately which areas most need attention. The numbers are important, so don’t let the comments alone distract you or your committee.

Quakers are fairly generous with comments and suggestions, but they can be copied and pasted into your report directly from SurveyMonkey. You get to decide how to organize them, but I felt that a comment about registration, for example, should be listed under that heading even if it was written in another spot.

Copies of past evaluation reports are in the archival materials – plastic file box – that came to you when you volunteered for the job of clerk. Add your report to that growing file. The evaluation report is also filed with the SAYMA administrative office and shared with the presiding Clerk of SAYMA.

We also send feedback from the evaluation directly to the college. That report is short as it focuses exclusively on facilities issues: space, accessibility, dorms, cafeteria, and campus in general and it doesn’t include numbers, just a few typical compliments as well as significant complaints.
Setting agendas for meetings

Each YM Planning Committee meets five times:
1. At the end of YM at Warren Wilson in June – outgoing & incoming members
2. during September Rep meeting
3. during January
4. during March Rep meeting
5. Again at the end of YM in June – both outgoing and incoming members

In general the topics covered have a seasonal shape:

1. The wrap-up at the end of YM: what went right, what needs fixing, etc.
2. September
   a. Review job descriptions for committee members
   b. Review report on evaluation from the last YM
   c. Choose theme for next year
   d. Review final budget for last YM
   e. Begin identification of plenary programs for next year
      i. some years these speakers are internal
      ii. every other year we budget for outside speakers
   f. whatever else is timely
3. January
   a. Finalize plenary programs
   b. Review proposed budget for upcoming year
   c. Approve any schedule changes for next year
   d. Focus on workshops – proposals are solicited during February
   e. Consider any reports from committee members
   f. Agree on deadlines for published materials, registration, etc.
   g. whatever else is timely
4. March
   a. Discuss facilities details; anticipate what needs to be done for June
   b. Review Advanced program
   c. Approve evaluation form and discuss how to encourage feedback from as many Friends as possible
   d. Consider any reports from committee members
   e. whatever else is timely
5. June – wrap-up (see #1)

YMPC makes a report to the assembled Reps after each of our committee meetings. This can be done by the clerk, or by whoever was assigned to take the minutes. There is also an opportunity to make a report at YM if you wish. The SAYMA clerk may contact you about this sometime in May.
Preparing Proposed Budget

Each YM Planning committee needs to plan a budget for YM. Yearly Meeting costs and expenses are not part of the regular SAYMA budget, so this task falls to you rather than to the treasurer. (I know – worse luck!) However, SAYMA does graciously cover any shortfall and happily accepts any surplus.

Most costs are not under the control of YM Planning Committee. All you can do is anticipate what they will be. It is also important to realize that costs come in two basic categories: 1) pass-through costs and 2) funded costs – costs the YM Planning committee has to raise revenues to cover.

Pass-through costs are the easiest to understand: room and meal fees together with campus use fees (the per person charge for the use of college facilities: Cannon lounge, Bryson, rooms in Jensen, etc.) The college sets these fees and we collect them from attenders and pass the money collected through to the college. The amount will vary with attendance, although you can anticipate around $20,000 in this category.

The second category is the one you have to pay the most attention to and it is not trivial. Funded costs typically amount to almost $9,000 – or about 1/3 of the total cost of putting on YM. These funded costs include, but may not be limited to, the following:

- Subsidized YM package/person (room/meals/campus use fee) for…
  - Invited outside speakers (number varies with year)
  - Invited guests (usually 4/year – includes FGC visitor)
- SAYMA staff people:
  - Administrative Assistant
  - JYM co-coordinators (2)
  - SAYF coordinator
  - 8 FAPS
- Other expenses
  - JYM supplies, etc.
  - Administrative expenses (printing & mailing & online evaluation)
  - Golf cart, life guard, dance caller and musicians
  - Scholarships awarded (i.e. partial subsidy of fees)

There are three sources to cover these expenses: 1) the registration fee, 2) scholarship donations, and 3) charges for submitting a registration form after the deadline. The amount of money received in scholarship donations each year is not under our control, but you can look at the final budgets in the file (the ones prepared after each YM) to see that donations usually amount to no more than $1000 and are sometimes quite a bit less. Late fees are less than $1000 also, so clearly we rely primarily on registration fees.

Scholarships are always available for those who need them. Recipients should first pay what they can, next apply to their monthly meeting for support, and then ask SAYMA to make up the balance. A personal check and/or a check from the meeting should be mailed with the registration form. Scholarship recipients may also want to volunteer in some capacity or other during YM.

Hopefully most of this will come clear when you look at last year’s budget, and last year’s budget may look more comprehensible, once you have read this explanation!
Thinking about the YM schedule:

1. Over many years we have arrived at a schedule that works fairly well in its broad outline. However, in response to special considerations for the upcoming year or to feedback on the evaluation forms about last year’s meeting, it may be appropriate to tweak it here and there.

2. One thing to remember is that YM is really only two full days: Friday and Saturday. Thursday afternoon is taken up with opening worship and the introductory business meeting, while Sunday morning is occupied with the warp-up business session, closing worship, packing and checking out.

3. It may be useful to distinguish between 1) activities designed for everyone, 2) breakout groups, and 3) activities designed for a specific few:
   - Everyone: Opening & Closing Worship; Meeting for Business; Evening Plenary sessions
   - Break-out: Worship Sharing; Workshop Sessions
   - Special interest: Committee meetings; Morning, Evening, and Late Night Worship; Worship for Remembrance; Play & Sing; Chat & Chew

   Although SAYMA does not want to schedule anything to conflict with activities in the first list, there does not seem to be any compelling reason not to double-schedule activities during break-out or special interest sessions. We began moving in that direction in 2007.

4. Our big success in 2006 was giving workshops enough time to complete their work. Scheduling only one time slot for workshops on Friday and just one time slot on Saturday meant Friends could choose only one workshop each day, but Friends told us they felt less rushed each afternoon and were glad to have the time they felt they needed for the workshop they did attend.

5. The Worship Sharing schedule is constrained by the following:
   a. There is not enough time in the Thursday afternoon schedule or the Sunday morning schedule for worship sharing.
   b. That leaves just Friday and Saturday. Friends like morning worship sharing better than after lunch.
   c. A full hour is best, if possible.

6. Remember, YM starts at 1 p.m. on Thursday. The early check-in on Wednesday is designed so the planning committee and SAYMA staff can set up Yearly Meeting Central; it can also accommodate Friends traveling long distances. Any activities on Wednesday night and Thursday morning are impromptu and unofficial and should not be listed on the printed schedule.

7. Thus you may be happy with the schedule pretty much as it is at present.
Setting Deadlines

Several deadlines have to be met throughout the year so that everything comes together in June. These will fall into the same time frame each year, but the exact day should be expected to change as the calendar dictates.

By end of January: send out Request for workshop proposals
   Save the Date email – Liz Perch will forward it for you

End of February: deadline for workshop proposals to come back in

First of March: deadline for getting information for the Advanced Program to the layout editor

End of March: deadline for getting copy for the Advanced Program to the SAYMA Administrative Assistant for printing and mailing.

Early April: Advanced Program is mailed and posted on the website.

Mid-May: Deadline for getting registration forms to the registrar.

End of May:
   • final program needs to be pulled together and finalized – it is distributed only at Yearly Meeting
   • Deadlines for . . .
      WQOs reserving display space at SAYMA late registration: last day to reserve room or meals last day to cancel with refund
Published materials

YM Planning committee is responsible for three publications: early notice (sent via email), an Advanced Program, and a Final Program.

1. Early notice: Friends like to know when yearly meeting is scheduled so they can mark their calendars. We used to send out a pre-mailer; then we changed it to a poster; then we just sent email notices – more than one at regular intervals starting in January.

2. The Advanced Program: This consists of 10 pages of information printed front and back with a 2-sided registration form attached. That makes a total of 12 pages printed on 6 sheets. It is mailed to member meetings for distribution around the beginning of April and posted at the same time on the SAYMA website. Collecting and organizing the information is the responsibility of the layout editor. Obviously we don’t have to reinvent the wheel every year. The place to start is with last year’s Advanced Program, any comments from the evaluation report for last year, and decisions made by YMPC for the upcoming year.

   a. The information needs to be complete, correct, and clear.
   b. Complete: topics covered include:
      i. letter of welcome from YM Planning Clerk
      ii. info on important deadlines: registering, display space, refunds.
      iii. YM schedule
      iv. description of plenary speakers and programs
      v. description of worship opportunities
      vi. description of workshops
      vii. info on SAYF at SAYMA and JYM viii. info about YAF, invited guests, bookstore, etc.
      ix. detailed information about how to register
      x. the Registration form.

   c. Correct and closely proof-read: This involves lots of email back and forth between the Layout Editor and the other members of the committee.

   d. Clear and comprehensible: Friends often feel the information they needed wasn’t there. It’s all there, but it is hard to highlight everything. The best thing we can do is encourage Friends to read it!

   e. SAYMA website: email the Advanced Program to the SAYMA web manager for posting on the SAYMA website. If you don’t know who that is, ask Liz Perch.
f. Distribution: The advanced program is also mailed by the SAYMA Administrative Assistant to member meetings. Numbers may vary, but this is what we sent out in the years 2005-2007:

g. Draft a cover letter to accompany the mailing with instructions to the meetings about how to get the Advanced Program into the hands of their members and attenders. Something like . . .

Dear Friends,

We need your help getting these Advanced Programs into the hands of Friends who might be interested in attending Yearly Meeting. We’d particularly like to encourage Friends who have never come before to give it a try. Once someone comes, they often come back – even year after year.

It might be a good idea to talk with the members of your meeting who are regular attenders at Yearly Meeting and encourage them to encourage others.

You may want to place these program booklets in a prominent spot or even pass them around at the end of worship when announcements are heard. It might help to discuss yearly meeting in your meeting for business. If you publish a newsletter, perhaps someone who has attended yearly meeting might be inspired to write something about it. You might also want to remind Friends that this information is available on the SAYMA website.

And, of course, we have deadlines: to avoid the late fee, Friends must register by May 15.

In Friendship,
The Final Program: This is the booklet we hand out at YM in June as people arrive and register. It contains schedule details, locations, agendas, etc.

h. The booklet is 16 half pages printed front and back on 4 sheets of letter size paper. The cover is a separate piece and adds another sheet of paper and 4 more half-pages. The cover is a different color every year and should contain the SAYMA logo, the YM theme, and the YM logo.

i. There is a program on MicroSoft Word for making folded booklets. It presents the pages to you on the computer screen in numerical order as you are used to seeing documents, but when it is printed it prints page 14 and 3 on a single side, backed up with 2 and 13. Unless you’ve done this before, it can be confusing.

j. If you use the booklet program you will need two files – one for the interior pages and one for the cover – that’s so the interior pages will be numbered correctly and the cover will have no page numbers at all.

k. So hopefully your lay-out editor has some experience with this kind of formatting and has access to a fairly up-to-date computer and printer.

3. As for the content, however, there is no need to reinvent the wheel. Start with last year’s program and make a first pass by updating it from the current year’s Advanced Program. Then have your committee review the rough draft and make changes. You will probably have to do that by email.

4. Either the facilities coordinator or the Administrative Assistant can tell you what restrictions we have on campus this year. However, there are lists of rooms available for us to use for workshops and we use the same ones every year. All that needs doing is to fill in a room for each workshop making sure you don’t assign more than one workshop to each room.

5. The SAYMA Administrative Assistant will oversee the printing, but this publication is not mailed out and is not posted on the SAYMA webpage. It is distributed only at Yearly Meeting in June.

6. Number to print: Check with the registrar to see how many people are coming. Print one program for each attender (including SAYFers) plus some extra.
WQO Display space at Yearly Meeting

Each year we provide space for Wider Quaker Organizations to set up displays at Yearly meeting. Space is limited and is assigned on a first come/first served basis. Each organization is assigned a half table in Yearly Meeting central (i.e. the same room as the registration desk and Chat & Chew.)

Information about how to reserve display space should be included in the Advanced Program. Most likely that will be to contact the facilities coordinator by email, but proactively we can send emails directly to those who participated in the near past. The Facilities Coordinator will then mark the spaces for each participating WQO when we set up for Yearly Meeting.

Important note: someone from the organization needs to be present on campus to set up the display at the beginning of Yearly Meeting and to take it down on Sunday.

Other…
- transport for those with mobility issues
- first aid availability
- phone/internet available for attenders
- communication for conference organizers
Invited guests, uninvited guests, speakers, etc.

Airport/bus terminal pick-ups: These tend to be few, so they are handled on an ad hoc basis, depending on who needs the service. For example…

- An invited quest might be the responsibility of the person or committee extending the invitation.
- Speakers would come under the responsibility of the Adult Program Coordinator.
- Attenders requesting pick-up might be handled by the Registrar, the Site Coordinator, or some other person designated by the YMPC.

The SAYMA Clerk (not the YM Planning Clerk) has taken responsibilities in recent years for inviting visitors from Wider Quaker Organization on a regular rotation. Only invited guests receive a subsidy. The registrar needs to know who they are by name ahead of time! The budget lays our policy out pretty clearly but does not name names.

In addition, other (paying) visitors to SAYMA have been known to contact…

- the SAYMA office
- the SAYMA Clerk
- the Workshop Coordinator
- some other SAYMA committee
- a SAYMA representative to their organization
- or you as YM Planning committee clerk

You should find some way of collecting this information since it needs to get to the clerk so s/he may welcome them during Business Meeting.

- Names
- organization represented
- roles within those organizations
- what part they will play in Yearly Meeting
  - display space
  - action items or announcements for business meeting
  - lunchtime discussion group
  - workshop presentation
  - other

Requests for a spot on the agenda to address business meeting should be forwarded to the SAYMA clerk.

Anyone may schedule one of the meeting rooms off the cafeteria (Dining A, B, and C) for impromptu meetings. This is usually done during YM through a sign-up system kept at the Registration desk.
